SEMINAR IN SPORT MANAGEMENT

ATTENDING GRADUATE SCHOOL ASSIGNMENT

ASSIGNMENT

You are assigned to research and report on a university and graduate program where you would consider enrolling. A 2-page report detailing all the information about the program and admissions requirements is to be submitted into Blackboard

PURPOSE

In some disciplines, possessing a graduate degree is a necessity for obtaining a "career" job. That does not mean you should dive right in immediately after completing your undergrad degree, but maybe so. Let's first discuss why we might desire or need a graduate degree and what are the qualifications and parameters of a graduate degree.

REPORTING COMPONENTS

Compile a report to be submitted into Blackboard and presented in class including the following items:

- Title Page
- Type of Degree – M.S., M.A., or Sport Area Specific
- Admission requirements for candidacy – GPA, Major GPA, Test Scores – GRE Score, or M.A.T. Score, Professional goals narrative, Recommendations
- Degree Requirements and Grading System
- Program Leadership – Dean and Department Chair
- Curriculum and Thesis/Non-Thesis/Internship Options
- Emphases/Specialty Areas in Curriculum – Athletics, Governance, Law, Management
- How Program is offered – Residence and/or On-line
- Notable Faculty Members – Leaders in Sport or Authors

- Fees – Application Fees, Tuition, In-state/Out-of-State Tuition
- Be ready to make an oral presentation on your findings in class.

PROCESS

- Review some graduate programs around the country.
- Select one you might be interested attending.
- Complete a summary of the program using the Reporting Components above.
